

ACCUSATION FROM THE JUNGLE: GERHARD GRÜMMER PROTESTS AGENT ORANGE

Professor Gerhard Grümmer
ACCUSATION
from the jungle

Although his critiques were part of a broader condemnation of American imperialism, Professor Gerhard Grümmer's writing also warned about the dangers of the phenoxy herbicides, the chemicals that made up Agent Orange and that were being used to defoliate the South Vietnamese jungle. Grümmer represented an international community that united against these ecological weapons. His writings influenced both American and European audiences.
